Coverack Bay. Coverack is a small village in the south of Cornwall, about 3 miles from St. Keverne and about 11 miles south-west of Falmouth. It is a typical little fishing village nestling in a picturesque fashion close to the sea shore and well surrounded and sheltered by cliffs. It contains a Church of considerable antiquity (restored 1885) wherein is a pulpit and font of serpentine stone. The Headland in the distance is Black Head (about 1½ miles distant).

Pleased to receive your card this afternoon & P. letter this morning I am glad you are getting on all right. I did not feel at all well last night nearly made my mind up to come back. To day the letter you sent is worth Clark's character. I must wait
